1. What did you learn (content)? This deals with your ability to articulate.

Describe the content of what you have learned. If possible, line up this content with a course and number listed in the South Florida Bible College & Theological Seminary catalog.

2. When did you learn it (date and time spent)? This deals with temporal identification.

List the dates and instructional hours spent in learning the content for requested credit.

3. Where did you learn it (locale)? This deals with sites or locations.

Name the place, i.e., church, school, seminar, training session, "on the job training," or other. Did this study require homework, or a practicum? Was this taught by an instructor, or was it independent study?

4. Why did you learn it (rationale)? This deals with voluntary or involuntary reasons.

Explain what prompted you to learn this topic. Was this a required, or a voluntary study?

5. How did you learn it (methodology)? This deals with usage or utilization.

- A. Books and Workbooks (List the Title, Author, Publisher, and Pages of books read)*
- B. Resource or Visual Aids*
- C. Lectures (hours)*
- D. Papers written (pages)*

6. How has it helped you (value)? This deals with practical application.

How have you applied what you have learned? To whom has your ministry or service been directed? How many hours have you spent in this application. What new growth has been spurred from the application of this topic?

7. What accomplishments were earned from this course of study?

Did you receive a certificate, diploma, or continuing education units? Do you have a grade card or transcript? Have you received any special recognition for this course of study? Please supply any of the above with your request for credit.

Include as much information as possible. This may be typewritten on a separate page, following the above guidelines. A worksheet is enclosed for rough draft purposes. (Web site: www.sfb.edu)
